Low-cost, high-tech Internet link-up could be here by Christmas

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Need to find an obscure recipe? Leave a quick message for a friend in California?

Fix an arcane computer problem? Check the closing stock market quotes, the latest research on the effects of dioxin, or even the hottest gossip on the ski-racing circuit?

For SAD44 area residents with computers in their homes, gathering information from around the world -- and sending their own contribu-tions back out into the global community -- may soon be as simple as making a local phone call followed by a few mouse clicks.

If all goes well, by the end of this year local homes, businesses and schools could all have their own direct or dial-up access to the Internet, a computer network linking more than 30 million users around

And the cost for area residents to log onto the Internet could be less than the price of a postage stamp.

"The stars are right -- this is a very doable thing," Bethel selectman Harry "Dutch" Dresser, Ph.D, told his fellow selectmen recently.

Dresser, the associate headmaster of Gould Academy, knows what the job requires. He recently oversaw the installation of an Internet access ramp at Gould, and he is rapidly becoming a nationally sought-after consultant on such installations.

Gould officials believe the local academy is the first prep school in the country to have its own Internet access ramp, as well as the networking infrastructure to deliver that access to classrooms and all dorm rooms.

And now Dresser has set out to make the Bethel area the first community in the state to enjoy a similar level of Internet access.

Information is power

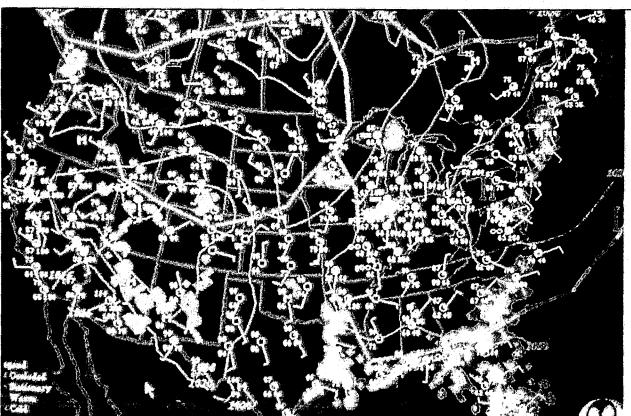

Information has become a global commodity, and ready access to the Internet has become essential for students, businesses and individuals who expect to function and compete successfully in the Information Age. But that access can be difficult -and expensive -- to come by. Supporters of the so-called Information Superhighway (of which the Internet is considered a precursor) acknowledge that a stubborn "havesand-have-nots" problem is emerging.

The problem is especially acute in rural areas, which once again face the prospect of being passed by economically because of their physical isolation.

"It is critically important to the future welfare and development of our country that schools, governments, health agencies, libraries and citizens of small, rural towns not be left out as various institutions orga-

Up-to-the-minute weather maps are only a tiny part of information available on the Internet. The practical and imaginative uses for the network are limited only by the mind of the user. In recent weeks, "Dutch" Dresser has uses the Internet to get suggestions for the syllabus of a philosophy course, to help his wife find an obscure recipe, to post E-mail messages, to download free computer programs, and to solve a tricky problem with Novell networking software. After posting the Novell problem on UseNet one evening, Dresser found a half-dozen answers waiting for him the following morning. "The most useful," he said, "was from India."

"Training more than anything," Young replied. "You can have all the equipment in the world, but if you don't train to use it, it won't do you any good."

The Bethel Fire Department has already done some high level training on neighboring Newry's ladder

"As far as Bethel people training with our ladder truck, that's an ongoing thing," said Newry Fire Chief "Tink" Conkwright.

But everyone at last week's meeting seemed to agree that more specialized training was now in order. Don Vautour, a retired fire captain from Weston, Mass, who has fought fires in the city of Boston, cautioned that fighting a multi-story fire was a very different proposition than battling the types of structure fires commonly encountered in the Bethel area.

"There's a vast difference between fighting a fire in a two-story building, a three-story building and a five-story building."

Smoke, he agreed, posed the greatest danger. "You get one unit on fire and the smoke can fill that corridor, and probably go from the second to the third to the fourth floor, causing a panic situation. You've got to be trained in how to handle it. ... You're not dealing with five or six people, you're dealing with many rooms, many people, and some of them panicked.

But while most who spoke at last week's meeting agreed on the need for more training, they also realized that it could be hard to arrange for volunteer departments, where the firefighters often had full-time day jobs.

Vautour suggested that if the state has a fire-training building, principals of local departments could take high level training, then pass it along to their volunteers.

The Planning Board will take up the matter again at its regular meeting tonight. In the meantime, town planning assistant Nancy Schleiper has been exploring the possibility of arranging the additional training.

More new businesses

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting are reviews of the proposed DeMarco professional building on lower Main Street; the J&R Country Store; Spruce Tree Shops, a combined retail-professional conversion of the Lynn Mason residence on lower Main Street; and a pre-application hearing on a proposal to install additional scating at Bethel Pizza.

CPS receives national Drug Free School Award

First Maine school so honored

Crescent Park School officials will travel to Washington, D.C. next month to accept a Drug Free School Recognition Award from the U.S. Department of Education.

CPS is the first school in Maine to receive this award, according to CPS principal David Murphy. President Clinton will be present for the award ceremony in the White House rose garden. CPS is one of 90 hools nationwide which will receive the award

Two representatives of the U.S.D.E. visited CPS in February. The site visit was one of 150 nationally and the only such visit in Maine. Two principals, both former drug free award winners, performed the site visit to confirm information provided in the nomination process. The pair met with Murphy, and interviewed students, parents, teachers, administrators, support staff and others.

"It took a lot of work and a lot of emphasis on this topic," Murphy said. "It's an award that goes to the entire community for their support and to the teachers here who keep it up as a priority. For a small school especially, it's an award the whole community should be proud of." Murphy, and teachers Heidi Steele and Brenda Wight will go to Washington, D.C. for award ceremonies on June 2 and 3.

The district-wide vote on the proposed SAD44 budget is scheduled for tonight, Wednesday, at 7 p.m. in the Telstar High School auditorium.

THERE WAS NO $300,000 CUT

To the Editor:

After much consideration, I have decided to respond to a letter to the editor in last week's Bethel Citizen. In Pat Dooen's letter she states that "The school board was not unanimous in approving this budget. Initially some $300,000 was cut -- this was then reinstated." At no time did the School Board cut and then reinstate that amount of money. The board, as is its duty, looked at all aspects of the budget requests and after long deliberation passed the budget that is to be presented to the vitizens on May 25, 1994 for final approval.

Cuts at this time and of the magnitude suggested in Ms. Dooen's letter would be devastating to the SAD44 school system. The result would be the loss of programs and personnel (perhaps as many as 12 or 14 positions along with our high school accreditation). This at a time when the economy of the area is beginning to turn around. Without good schools, the economy of an area can not thrive.

I urge you all to come out and invest in your student's future, in the futures of this area's youth, and ultimately in the economy of the Tel-

COME TO THE FORUM

To the Editor:

The stage is set for Bethel's 1994 "Selectperson Candidates' Forum" to be held June 1 in the Telstar High School Auditorium from 7 to 9 p.m. All four candidates are planning to attend the televised (Channel

Recently a committee met to establish a format for the forum and to outline general areas from which questions will be asked. Four panelists consisting of Bill Cousins, Linda Varrell, Mike Daniels and Jeri Brooks-Greenwell will ask each of the four candidates questions derived from the following areas:

- Development of Bethel Station and its impact on the area.
- Need for economic development of the Bethel area.

- Future expansion and/or use of the Airport Industrial Park. - Use of federal, state or private grants to support development.

- Strategies for job development and need for expansion.

Waste disposal projections and need for expansion.

- Consequences of the state's refusal to curtail spending and the impact on local tax rates.

- Quality of local education and the need to create local job opportunities to keep kids here.

 What each candidate expects to contribute if elected as selectperson.
 Each candidate will be given approximately two minutes to answer the questions, with follow-up questions allowed by the panelists. State Rep. Al Barth will moderate the forum, insuring timely responses with eards to submit additional questions, which will be reviewed to avoid diplication and insure appropriateness to the format.

Anyone interested in submitting questions for consideration is encouraged to contact any of those involved as panelists, the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce at 824-2282 or our office at Creative Management Associates at 824-4044. Arrangements have also been made for questions to be submitted via Prebs, the IGA, Bethel Savings Bank, brooks Brother's Hardware, or the Red Top Truck Stop.

I truly hope Bethel voters will take advantage of this unique opportunity to learn more about our candidates by either attending or watching the forum prior to the June 14 election.

CONSIDER WOODBURY

To the Editor:

I was delighted to read Burt deFrees' letter in The Citizen of May 11. It was great to have him take issue with Joe Brennan's $5,000 breaktast. Burt's reference to Richard Barringer as a fine alternative to the reissued Brennan was right to the point.

I have another candidate for the voters to consider, Bob Woodbury. Bob, too, is "bright, articulate, genuinely concerned for Maine and its

His leadership of Maine's largest, statewide public institution is a clear example of his ability to get things done. The only candidate with that sort of positive experience, by the way.

MAY FAIR THANKS

To the Editor:

The CPS May Fair was a success. A big "thank you" goes out to all the families who attended, the volunteers and teachers. I was in charge of the petting zoo and pony rides, which were both a success.

This success is due to all who helped me: the End-of-the-Rainbow 4-

H Club (Bethel 4-H); Lisa Smith for her trailing the ponies and general help; Jeanne Boelsma, Rick Salttery, Cassie Mason, Nancy Murphy for leading the ponies, and of course, Pumpkin and Silver, who gave rides to about 120 children.

nizations and governmental agencies in the United States move into the age of electronic communication through connection to the developing National Information Infrastruture," Dresser said.

But Gould's rural location is no longer a problem. The academy has moved into the fast land of the Information Superhighway and the benefits are many.

Faculty and students can gather information almost instantaneously from around the world, keep up with the breaking news on virtually any topic, and communicate globally with individuals and organiza-tions interested in more than 3,000 separate topics. The free information and expertise out there is absolutely astounding," Dresser said.

(But for Gould students this instantaneous world-wide communication can be a double-edged sword. A number of their parents subscribe to E-mail services, Dresser said, so when a student is sloughing off, the academy's faculty can easily contact a parent -- who can fire off a quick E-mail flame telling the youngster to get to

The Internet ramp is also expected to enhance the academy's position in the increasingly competitive world of prep-school marketing.

Spreading the net But all this does little for the rest of the community -- something that clearly concerns Dresser.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the academy doesn't have the facilities to provide access to the public school system, the public library, the health center, or to the citizens of Bethel."

But Dresser has now set out to change that. He is working to establish a Bethel Datification Committee, and with the help of the Maine Municipal Association and the University of Maine Computer and Data Processing Services Department, he is moving aggressively to spread the Internet access more broadly.

He estimates that it would cost roughly $50,000 to install direct or dial-up access in Bethel and part of the surrounding area.

In addition to the $50,000 estimated cost of installing the Dresser is currently exploring a number of private sources for funding, and he is optimistic that a financing package can by put together -- without asking local towns to tap their municipal budgets. "An unusual array of circum-

Ox. Cty. spared auto emissions testing

AUGUSTA--When Maine's new automotive emissions testing program goes into effect next month, Oxford County residents will not be required to check their car's exhaust emission. Maine is only required to test cars in areas with a population of more than 100,000. The state is mandated to reduce admissions by 15 percent, and in order to do that vehicles in Androscoggin, Cumberland, Kennebec, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc and York will be tested.

Mercury found in freshwater fish

AUGUSTA--State officials are warning pregnant women, nursing mothers, women who may become pregnant and children under 8 not to eat fish from Maine lakes and ponds. The Human Services Department's Bureau of Health and the Department of Environmental Protection cautioned that the fish have widespread mercury contamination.

The agencies recommend no more than six fish meals a year for people eating large fish, which usually contain higher levels of mercury. People eating smaller fish should eat no more than 22 fish meals a year, officials said. The mercury level findings were compiled from a sampling of about 150 of Maine's 5,800 lakes and ponds. A few of the fish sampled were contaminated with two or three times more mercury than the Food and Drug Administrations's one-part-per-million limit. Mercury in high levels can cause developmental defects in children and human fetuses, and possibly nerve and kidney damage. Swimming and boating pose no health threat, officials said.

Mooselookmeguntic road approved

PARIS--Oxford County commissioners voted last week to go ahead with taking ownership by eminent domain of a private road leading to Mooselookmeguntic Lake.

The commissioners voted to take the steps necessary to claim the road and will consult with legal counsel to review the proper procedures. The four-mile stretch of dirt road would provide access to Maine Public Reserve Lands on the south shore of the lake, where the state plans to build a boat landing and small park. The county would take over the stretch of road from the end of South Arm Road to the state land in Richardsontown Township. The road is owned by the heirs of the Pingree family and is managed by Seven Islands Lands Co. in Rangeley.

NOVA leases new office/class space

RUMFORD--The Northern Oxford Vocational Area Cooperative Board last week approved a three-year $101,000 lease for three Waldo Street properties. NOVA's central office and pre-vocational programs, which are now at the SAD43 administration building, will move to Waldo Street. The building trades program, now housed in a former maintenance building on the old Stephens High School property, will also move to the new NOVA location. The lease is $3.50 a square foot, the same NOVA pays at its present site.

There are three buildings on Waldo Street, adjacent to the Hosmer Field skating rink. They include an apartment with a three-car garage and 100-foot work space. The apartment will be used for a central kitchen area and its two bedrooms as classrooms. Car refinishing and restoration will be done in the three-bay garage. The building trades will go in a steel framed building with storage, classrooms, offices, machine area, rest room and storage areas.

Measles close Hebron sports

HEBRON--A case of measles prompted Hebron Academy to cancel its final week of sports events, but the school's 150 students will continue classes. There were also three cases of measles recently reported in Rockland.

Dump closing in May

ANDOVER--The town dump will close by the end of May. There will be a public meeting on June 7 at the Andover Town Hall, 7 p.m., to discuss new regulations and restrictions on dumping. Once the dump is closed, recycling will be mandatory. The town approved mandatory recycling at its 1992 Town Meeting.

Sugarloaf closes out longest season

CARRABASSETT VALLEY--Sugarloaf/USA has ended its 178-day 1994 season. This year is the resort's longest ski season to date, surpassing last year's record 177 days. The Sugarloaf Golf Club opens May 20. As of Tuesday, Sunday River was still open, with officials hoping to offer skiing through at least June 1.

SAD17 withdrawal vote split

OTISFIELD/WATERFORD--In a straw vote last week, the towns of Otisfield and Waterford split on whether to begin the withdrawal process from SAD17. By a vote of 19 to 2 Waterford approved looking into withdrawal, but Otisfield turned the proposal down, 3-25. A committee formed to research withdrawal from SAD17 by Otisfield, Waterford and Harrison is planning to circulate a petition calling for a formal vote on beginning the withdrawal process.

South Arm couple wins $50,000

ANDOVER--Tom and Nancy McNamara of South Arm bought a Maine Cash Five lottery Easy Pick ticket last week at Mills Market in Andover. It was a $50,000 winner. The McNamaras said they will use the windfall to build a new home or add on to their present home. The McNamaras moved to Andover in 1990 from Foxboro, Mass.

Forster unions voted out

WILTON-Employees at Forster's plant in Wilton voted out their union last week, echoing a vote earlier this month at the company's plant in Strong. Forster announced last week that its Wilton employees' voted 111 to 53 to decertify Local 405 of the United Paperworkers International Union as their bargaining agent. A similar vote earlier this month in Strong was 57 to 30 to decertify the union. The votes make Forster union-free. Workers at the company's plant in East Wilton have never been represented by a union.

10 tons of extra yard work

CARRABASSETT VALLEY--For the third time in less than five years, a Carrabassett Valley couple had their yard filled with a truckload of wood products. In the past five years, three tractor-trailer trucks have failed to make a sharp corner on Route 27 and have dumped their loads on Almo and Kay Nickerson's lawn. Thursday, a truck skidded down the Nickerson's driveway, rolled over, sliding 70 feet, coming to rest in a ditch. Ten of the 25 tons of chips in the truck landed on the Nickerson's lawn. The truck driver was uninjured, but the truck sustained $25,000 worth of damage.

Intermodal Commission meeting

CAMBRIDGE, MASS .- The national Commission on Intermodal CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—The national Commission on Intermodal Transportation is holding meetings this week in Cambridge, Mass. The meetings, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, are focusing on the intermodal transportation needs of the New England region. Rail and freight train service will be part of the discussion. This is one of the first opportunities for freight and passenger interests, metropolitan planning organizations, transportation companies and government agencies to jointly discuss issues relating to all types of transportation,

Rumford offers Boise valuation drop

RUMFORD -- The Rumford Board of Assessors voted 3-0 Monday to offer Boise Cascade Corp. a $22.8 million equipment depreciation proposal. Boise has asked the board for an $800,000 personal property fax reduction from the current $8.69 million tax bill for equipment and machinery at its Rumford mill. The mills pays about 80 percent of the town's taxes and its equipment and machinery is assessed at $452.4 million. Boise has asked for a tax reduction based on "economic obsoles-- cence" of equipment no longer profitable to operate.

Marauding bear killed

By WENDY HANSCOM

A West Paris hunter last week tracked down and killed a bear suspected of killing two sheep in Albany--but not before the bear took another lamb in Albany.

Hunter Tim Farrar said that after a week on the trail, his dogs treed the bear that most likely killed two sheep at John and Joan Kimball's

But before he was shot, the bear nabbed another sheep from John Meister of Albany, Farrar said.

"We assume this is the bear," Farrar said. "He took a sheep from a pen 30 feet in front of (Meister's) door. He broke the pen in half, and dragged the sheep right off. We folthe bear out of the woods. Meister said he suspects this is the same bear that also killed one of his lambs last spring. Farrar said he was asked by game we're asked to chase a bear off and convince him there's somewhere else he can cat," Farrar said. "Most of the time it's bears around bee hives or garbage. Last year, we did kill one that took two pigs on the Northwest Bethel Road,"

Road review waiver sought

By WENDY HANSCOM

Sunday River Ski Resort has asked the Newry Planning Board to reopen the resort's application for a secondary access road and to formally waive a site plan review of the Monkey Brook extension road into Jordan Bowl.

When the town's roads task force was formed in March, Sunday River tabled its application for the secondary access road until the task force completed its study.

The task force voted recently to recommend approval of the road, which would run northeast from the resort's parking lot five for about a mile, and then intersect with the Sunday River Road between the Skiway and Monkey Brook roads.

It's also possible that the road could be extended into the resort's new development in the Jordan Bowl area. Ski area officials are currently negotiating with Susan Hamill of Virginia to obtain a right of way across her land and into Riley Township. Hamill is considering the request but has not reached a final decision, according to town officials.

The resort is also considering at least two other ways to access the Jordan Bowl area.

The ski area already has Department of Environmental Protection to extend the Monkey Brook Road into Jordan Bowl, and the town has granted shoreland zoning approval for the extension.

The board, however, did not do a formal site plan review, and last week, resort engineer Joseph Aloisio asked the board for a formal waiver for the review.

Board Chairman Donald Sandstrom said the board probably should have done the site plan review. Board member Brian Hanscom said he thought the board had discussed whether or not to require a site plan review at the time the shoreland zoning permit was granted. Sandstrom said he will try to find, and listen to, tapes of that meeting and determine if the discussion qualifies as a de facto waiver.

The board will discuss the waiver request and the secondary access road proposal at its next meeting, June 1, 7 p.m., at the Municipal

From the Bethel Police log:

Trouble with juveniles; Intervale Road burglary

Police responded to three juvenile complaints last week. Friday evening, police received a report of a large group of juveniles causing a disturbance off the Rabbit Road on P.H. Chadbourne & Co. property. Four juveniles were located and all seemed to have been drinking, according to the police report. All four were taken to the police station and then released to their parents.

Earlier Friday evening, a Main street resident reported four juveniles causing a disturbance on Elm Street. The group was warned that they would be summonsed or arrested for disturbing the peace, if police received repeated complaints,

Thursday, a Bethel town employee reported seeing four juveniles in the Bethel village and asked police to see if they were truant from school. Police interviewed the four Bryant Pond youths and determined they had been involved in a minor accident in Gilead in a car which was earlier reported stolen. No charges have been filed, according to police. The case is still under investigation. In other police news last week, on May 17, an Intervale Road man reported that his apartment had been broken into. Skis, bindings, three bottles of wine, a tape player and other small items totalling $555 were

On May 13, police responded to a single-car accident on Route 2 in West Bethel. Todd Conant, 28, of Bethel left the road and hit a stretch of guard rails. Conant was arrested, charged with operating a motor vehicle under the influence of an intoxicant, and transported to Oxford County Jail.

On May 16, Vehicles driven by Gordon Pike, 41, of South Paris and James Bibbo III, 47, of Bradford, N.H. collided on Railroad Street. Damage to Pike's 1979 Chevy, $900; to Bibbo's 1990 Dodge, $300.

Dear Friends,
Along with many of our customers, we're fascinated with things Native American. It all started about four years ago when the movie "Dances With Wolves" hit the big screen. Suddenly there were dozens of new books on American Indian culture. Now there are literally hundreds of books on the topic fer all ages, and you'll find many of them currently displayed on our front wall at Books-N-Things.

There are works of fiction and non-fiction, often told by authentic Native American voices. Some are beautifully illustrated coffee table books. Some are soft cover children's picture books. You'll find books on Maine's own tribes, including the Micmacs. Many deal with spirituality and being attuned to nature.

If you're a Native American culture buff, we invite you to look over our fine selection of books on native peoples. We welcome your comments too.

Saturday's Crescent Park May Fair attracted hundreds of visitors, who bought auction items, played games, and ate lots of festival food. The event raised about $4,000 toward playground equipment for the newly expanded school. The CPS/PTA raised another $1,000 for its projects. Baseball win Friday. The outstanding performance of the game was turned in by Tim Remington, who in his third start of the season on the mound blew Rambler hitters away, striking out 14. The game went only five innings due to the 12-run rule.

Winthrop bats only touched the ball four times, with one hit and three grounders.

"Tim looked great today," Coach Bob Remington (his father) said. "He showed that he's starting to come around after the ankle injury. He got stronger as the game went on, evidenced by striking out the last 10 hitters he faced."

Offensively, the Rebels touched-up Rambler pitchers for 15 hits and a .571 team batting average. Every Rebel hitter collected at least one hit and Remington, Sean Gilson, Adam Newell and Peter Miserocchi each had two.

Telstar 9, Jay 6

It took nine innings Thursday and a three run rally in the top of the ninth for Telstar to beat Jay 9-6.
In the ninth, Telstar's Peter

Miserocchi led off with a walk. Kevin Rosenberg pinch ran and moved to second on an infield ground out. After reaching third on a wild pitch, he was knocked home on a base hit to right field by Clint Myers. After a popup for the second out, Adam Newell singled and Chris Howe hit a long single to drive in Myers and Newell for two

"Sean did everything it takes to win," said Coach Bob Remington. "he had good control of all three of his pitches and seemed to get better as the game went on."

Gould Academy wrap-up Gould Academy ended a winning baseball season last week.

Senior Josh Otten's 3-2 pitching record and 1.84 ERA helped lead Gould to a 5-2 record.

Eric Harlow led all hitters, with a .563 average, including three doubles, two home runs and 11 RBIs. Otten batted .529.

Harlow received the team's Sportsmanship Award and freshman Ian Paquette was elected most improved player. Jason Fraser was elected captain for the 1995 team. The George Bowhay Award was given to Otten for his all-around contributions to Gould baseball.

George Bowhay coached Gould Academy to many winning seasons from the 40s through the 70s.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING Brand new flags are proudly displayed throughout town this week, as this little town shows its pride in our country. Poppies are appearing in everyone's lapel, and the only thing we miss is Rose on our doorstep selling them for the Legion, All hearts are turned in remembrance for those who have laid down their lives so that we could remain, "The home of the free and the brave." Outdoors, there is the sound of lawn mowers whirring as yards are spruced up for the occasion, and bright patches of flowers appear overnight in the garden plots. Hanging baskets adorn every nook and cranny, and barbecue grills are polished, picnic tables readied. But even if the weather doesn't cooperate, patriotic citizens in Gilead join the rest of the nation in paying tribute to all those who have laid down their lives, or given a good part of their lives, or sacrificed their limbs and health for this land of spacious skies and amber fields of grain, for we are proud to be Americans today, tomorrow, and al-

Jessica and Brandon James stayed with Linda Smith and family recently for a period of six days while their parents visited relatives in Louisiana. Bethany (Buffy) Taylor graduated from University of Southern Maine with a degree in business administration. Her twin sister Brenda and husband Ivan flew in from Alexandria, Va., to attend the exercises. The girls are the twin daughters of Wayne Taylor. Incidentally, Linda tells me that they spotted Stephen King in the hallways, but he declined to pass out autographs. Bethany plans to leave on Wednesday, the 25th, to join Brenda and Ivan in Virginia, where better employment opportunities and cultural advantages lie.

Taylor of town. Amanda Smith of Albany was attended by Linda Smith and daughter Hilda Dragoon, ending up at the Alicia. The shower was given and dance in West Paris. Looks like they held at the home of Amanda's Aunt Rose Sumner of Bethel. The affordable housing units across the street have been a beehive of activity this past week. Lumber trucks have rolled in, along with carpenters, electricians, and plumbers. They have worked diligently long into the late evening hours. The hum of heavy equipment, saws buzzing, and hammers pounding added truth to the old adage that everything is subject to change. What a lot of changes this town has seen over a period of the last 30 years. Where the trailer park now stands in the '60s stood the Leo Witter chicken ranch. In the '70s, after the farm burned, a beautiful green pasture took its place where stately steeds, and riding horses grazed peacefully, adding a special touch of beauty to the town. Where the affordable units are going, next to the park, stood the town's only church, which was razed, leaving a huge white house that once was a popular boarding place, I am told. Time waits for no man. Changes for the better or worse are always being made. Even in Gilead, in a town of this size it is called progress. True to her word, Ms. Corriveau's housing project will be open by the first of July, I do believe. Much success and good wishes are extended to this project.

Until next week, then, enjoy your holidays and your barbecues, but most of all enjoy your community. Remember the lives it cost so we could be able to do just that. Keep the faith and God Bless America.

Poppy Days were Friday and Saturday of last week but will be available until Memorial Day. Just see Vera Cross.

Jarrod Huston of Rumford spent Wednesday with your correspondent. His mother, Michelle, works in Norway on Wednesdays and Thursdays, so she dropped him off on her way to work. Our church teen group held a slave auction to earn money for camp, and I got Jarrod for a couple hours' work, so he helped me with some things that needed doing around the yard. We also visited Dottie Brown, Kim and Allan, and Crystal and Al Lake and Brent, He's a fun teen to be around and we had a good time.

Friday, Vera Cross went to Vic-Union Veterans, will be held on nice gifts were received. Linda is the torian Villa with Charlotte Cole and Monday, May 30, 1 p.m. at the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert visited Lawrence Mason and attended the awards luncheon while On May 21, a bridal shower for there. They had supper with some friends of Charlotte and called on had a busy day.

Thursday, Gerry Shimamura and I went to Portland to visit Mary Mills (my sister-in-law, not Aunt Mary Mills) at the Maine Medical Center. Her legs are still quite swollen but her arms are back to normal size. She said they were trying to get her into a nursing home near here so she can get some therapy before returning to Don and Mae Mills. It would be nice to have her in Norway or West Paris where it doesn't take so long to get to visit. At least Gerry gets in and out of the cities without getting lost. It isn't only Lewiston I get lost in, It is weird. I have no problem getting in to where I want to get to, it's getting back out again. Cities are notorious for having oneway streets so you can't go out the same way you went in. For me anyway, that usually means a oneor two-hour delay where I see more of the state than I ever thought I would. John and I once traveled nearly the length of New Hampshire -- but that is another tale. Anyway, while I visited Mary, Gerry took the opportunity to go see Steve Anderson for part of the time. Nobody should have to go through what he's been through, and we wish him all the best and our prayers for a speedy recovery.

Brian and Veronica Penley and daughter have moved into a trailer in Milton. Tuesday, Noreen Russo, Olive Risko, Zylpha Emmons, and Vera Cross attended a County Council of the American Legion at Fryeburg. Bob Curtis is out and about after his recent operation, and we hope he will continue to improve rapidly.

On Wednesday, the Ladies Circle of the Union Church welcomed their president, Eva Twitchell home from Florida and observed Mary Mills' birthday with a cake.

On May 12, the second townspeople meeting was called by Fran Hamilton, president of the East Stoneham Church, to discuss the problems of smaller churches. The Rev. Andy White was present to listen to the problems and questions and was there to give advice and suggestions. He said we are doing quite well with what resources we have. I guess we will just have to cut back on expenses, the same as everyone else, the way the economy is now. Anyway, it was a good meeting and a lot of things were discussed.

You know two little things that I save on? I mentioned this a while back. I take the mesh bags that oranges come in and snip off the metal ends and recycle the bags wadded up as a scrub pad or scour ball. They don't wear away or splinter like the "Chore Boy" or "Dolly Duzzit." It's really neat. Now another thing. This might not be town news and yet again might be news to some. Take the papers that oleo margarine squares côme in and fold them and put on the inside of shelf on door in the refrigerator. They're really great to grease your biscuit tin or cookie sheet. Is that recycling, or what!

The Firemen's Booster Club supper Saturday night was well attended, the meal was good and people had a chance to visit and maybe win some money through the Booster Club.

Sunday was Children's Day and they put on an excellent program at the North Waterford Church, At this time, baby cups and Bibles were given out and the Sunday School children were recognized. Jessica Millett was soloist. The May 29th worship service will be at the East Stoneham Church with Memorial program following at the plaque Honor Roll outside.

Today a slow spring rain has dripped from the trees. I watched the pond and saw the way the wind swished across the water. The waves whiffed first up the pond then down the pond, then followed a calm. So different than the day I walked down the road to a place where I had picked mayflowers so many times. I found it but the flowers were not yet open. These flowers are described as "pink, small and punctual, aromatic low" but doesn't do justice to this trailing arbutus, whose waxy blossoms and delicious breath are among the earliest prophecies of the perfume-laden summer. They are under the dead brown leaves of last year; and especially among the pines and in light sandy soil. They win from many of us the gladdest recognition of the year; appearing as they do when we are so eager for some tangible assurance that -- "the spring comes slowly up this way."

I found the Wake Robins and Red Trilliums flaunting their lurid petals as if to force upon me the welcome news that the time of birds and flowers is at hand. Pretty, yes, but their odor is most unpleasant.

The wind met me in the hemlocks and pines; their musical instruments in tune. I stopped to listen. The valley sang in harmony with the sound of running water, while the rocks sat by, alive with ferns and mosses.

low green they were! I heard the brook from within the deep woods. I listened to its music. It talked sometimes like a human voice; expressing deep laughter, airy gladness and joyfulness. It could lift the heart and calm the spirit making one feel blessed even though it was just a tiny part of this wonderful world. Streams that bawl, trickle, around boulders filling the air with a deep continuous roar; I love them

Upton school board met May 17 at the Town Office with three members and guests present. After the usual business of accepting minutes and approving warrants, the superintendent, Mr. Jenkins, opened the one bid for transportation, which was from Robert Dapalito for $34,200. Mr. Powell added this to other school expenses, which have increased due to increased enrollment, and announced a figure of $77,597. After much discussion, the board voted to accept that budget, which one selectman present remarked was more than the total sum which the town operated with last year and would likely double taxes. The board rejected the bid and discussed alternatives, such as purchasing a bus. Mr. Dapalito offered to reduce the amount the second and third years if he could have a threeyear contract. The board reviewed some of the uncertainties making a three-year contract risky. The two selectmen present and the school board agreed on June 2nd as a date for a special town meeting to present the school budget.

I observed my anniversary by visiting Roland in the nursing home and a mini-party with friends and fellow writers in Bethel.

For those who know Mabel Andrews, she will be 95 years old on June 12. Cards would please her, especially if they refer to Red Sox or baseball. Her address is 44 Hunnewell, Pittsfield 04967.

Boise gives CPS playground fund a boost

By WENDY HANSCOM

The Safety Committee at Boise Cascade in Rumford has donated $1,000 to the Crescent Park School playground fund.

The CPS-PTA and Playground Committee have now raised about $9,000 for new playground equipment, according to CPS principal David Murphy.

When the CPS student body moved to Telstar High School this year to make way for construction crews, some of the school's swings, jungle-gyms and slides moved along with them, But most of the equipment is pretty old, Murphy said. Each time it is moved, he said, it must be cut out of cement footings, which shortens some of the structures. But the school will use as much of the older equipment as is considered safe, Murphy said.

Two separate playgrounds are planned at the renovated and expanded school. One for primary-age students and another for older pupils. It would cost about $40,000 to fully equip both playgrounds, Mur-phy said. The Playground Committee is holding fundraisers and applying for grants, he said, and will simply try to raise as much money as possible.

Anyone who would like to make a donation to the playground fund can call CPS at 824-2839.

Andover to test water for solvent

By BARBARA ADAMS

Selectmen voted this week to test the water from a public spring near the MCI Telecommunications Corp. satellite for carbon tetrachloride, a potentially poisonous solvent used in dry cleaning.

The board voted last week to have the state's Safe Drinking Water Program test water from the spring on Route 120 across the road from the MCI satellite station.

Selectmen were told during a recent visit to MCI for a property assessment that the company must filter its water before using it because of the presence of the chemical, board chairwoman Kathy Williamson said.

She noted the proximity of the spring to MCI, and the fact it is frequently used as drinking water by area residents, including several camp owners from Roxbury Pond. She said she believed immediate action was necessary,

"I would feel terrible if there was a problem with the water and we didn't do anything about it," she said, "If it isn't OK, we want to notify the people. I have been told that if you tell the state what to look for in the water, they can test for that."

John Hopeck of the state Department of Environmental Protection said that carbon tetrachloride is a solvent often used in dry cleaning.

A toxicologist at the state Department of Human Service's Environmental and Health Testing Laboratory said the chemical could be "very dangerous" if ingested.

"It depends on the level of tetrachlorine in the water. At certain levels, it's very dangerous. And at higher levels, it can be poisonous,' Dr. Evangelos Dimitriadis said.

Stan Johnson of the DEP's bureau of Water Quality Control said he believed the chemical would be harmful "even at low levels if drunk over a long period of time."

Carbon tetrachlorine cannot come from a natural source, he said, "It has to come from the release of a product spill or processed water containing it."

But "as to where it could come from in drinking water, it is hard to say. There might have been some illegal dumping in the past. Possibly it was a problem for a while. And, say, someone didn't know it and it ended up in the ground, it would constantly be recycled." In other business, at the request of the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments, selectmen decided last week that Williamson would meet with Linda Wood, an economic development specialist with AV-

AVCOG has recently contracted with the Northern Oxford Task Force on Economic Development to do a self-assessment of the organization's future direction, and its role in northern Oxford County.

According to AVCOG, face-toface interviews will be conducted to obtain feedback from community, education, and business leaders about NOTED and what should be done to stimulate the local economy.

"The purpose of these interviews is not only to obtain feedback on NOTED, but also to assess what local community leaders believe needs to be done to stimulate the lo-cal economy," Wood wrote in a let-ter to selectmen.

"It is important to get your input on what you feel should be done to stimulate economic and commercial development, specifically within the region of Rumford. Mexico. Andover, Carthage and Byron," she wrote.

OZONE HOTLINE

It may look and feel like mud scason, but at the Department of Environmental Protection, April 1 marks the beginning of "ozone season" -- the seven-month period when the agency monitors levels of what is commonly called "smog" at 16 sites throughout the state.

Warm, sunny summer days typically mean higher concentrations of ground-level ozone, and for many years DEP has issued advisories when conditions are considered unhealthful.

Last year, 25 days were considered unhealthful, based on state standards. The public can access daily air quality information by dialing the department's toll-free ozone hotline in Augusta.

The number is: 800-223-1196. The line is operational 24 hours a day, seven days a week from April through the end of October. A recorded message indicates whether air quality is "good," "moderate," "unhealthful," or "very unhealth-

Children, the elderly, and people with respiratory ailments are particularly susceptible to the health problems associated with groundlevel ozone. Ailments can include coughing, wheezing, and shortness of breath. Because permanent lung damage can result, even healthy ercise under extreme conditions.

Ground-level ozone forms through a complex chemical reaction involving hydrocarbons and nitrogen oxides in the presence of sunlight. Motor vehicle emissions in Maine and throughout the northeast/mid-Atlantic region are the single greatest contributor of the chemical components. A current public information campaign focuses on driving less, performing regular maintenance and using lesspolluting vehicles and fuels as ways citizens can help reduce groundlevel ozone.

Golf tip of the week --

Tips on pitching: Swing, don't scoop. Never attempt to scoop the club under the ball in an attempt to gain extra lift. Allow the loft (angle of the club face) to take care of the lift as it passes through the ball.

The golf tip of the week is provided by the staff of the Bethel Inn and

Country Club.

THOUGHTS FROM THE

Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words comfort and hope for your daily life.

In this season of graduations and commencements, we think of milestones passed, chapters closed and opened, changes in our life.

Jesus' disciples went through at least two changes. The first came when he called them to follow him. They left fishing boats, countinghouses or whatever their work was, to become -- well, "students" really.

They heard life-changing teachings, saw life-renewing healings, and basically just watched the Master. Except when Jesus sent them out on a practice run to spread the good news of the Kingdom's coming among the villages, they were pretty much in the "soak-it-up" stage.

They didn't understand all they saw. Like others in their time, they looked for their teacher to lead a revolution that would finally throw out the Army of Occupation and reestablish the Kingdom of Israel.

But the powers-that-be arrested Jesus, tortured and executed him. Thus the first stage ended in tragedy and despair, fear and sorrow.

As the disciples continued to meet secretly, for mutual support and out of loyalty to their dead Master's last wishes, suddenly Jesus appeared to them fully alive. He was lifechanging evidence of the power and trustworthiness of God. Stage Two had begun.

Astounded, filled with awe and joy, courage and love, they began to do what Jesus had done. They healed people, ministered to the op-pressed, and proclaimed the good news that the Realm of God had indeed begun.

The movement grew by leaps and bounds. Among its members distinctions by power, money and sex that dominated the rest of the world disappeared: women were the equal of men, former masters served former slaves, resources were shared. Many in the new movement were killed by world powers which could not stand being disobeyed, but its truth and love attracted many others. With some accommodation to the world's ways, people whose lives Jesus has changed still witness to the sovereignty of God as they live by Christ's Spirit.

So the questions to ponder at this time of gradations are: What changes has Jesus made in our life? Are we in Stage Two or even Stage One yet? Are we open to the Spirit that gives courage and hope, faith and love for living the Realm of Brendon Bass, co-paster

Augusta Roll Call Report

Wednesday, May 25, 1994

Each month while the Maine legislature is in session, the Augusta Roll Call Report will detail the key votes of our area's legislators during the previous month.

The Roll Call Report is intended to help voters decide whether how well their elected representatives are representing the people who elected them. The Citizen urges its readers to clip and save these reports and refer to them later this year when candidates for state representative and state senator are seeking votes. The Roll Call Report is researched and written by investigative reporter Steven Stycos using official

House of Representatives and Senate documents. The Maine legislature finished its annual session last month, adjourning immediately after passing a $20-million rebate for the paper industry and a $15-million supplemental budget.

In April the legislature also killed a proposal to allow casino gambling in Calais and approved B bond issues, totaling $87.3 million. The bond issues will appear on the November election ballot, along with a citizen-initiated proposal to limit the number of terms Maine Congressmen may serve.

As this month's roll call report reflects, the state Senate made many important decisions without recorded votes. While the House took roll call votes to kill the Calais casino plan and Congressional term limits, the Senate made the same decisions without roll call votes. The Senate also voted to reinstate the Maine Health Program without a roll call vote.

Below are this month's important roll call votes.

1994 Attendance: There were 155 roll call votes in the Senate in 1994. Listed is the percentage of roll call votes for which each senator was present. Senators who paired their votes, or were excused for absences (a rare event), have been counted as present.

Kill Bill to Shrink Legislature: 4/6/94 vote to kill LD 1933, sponsored by Rep. Sumner Lipman (R-Augusta), to reduce the size of the House of Representatives from 151 members to 99, and the Senate from 35 members to 33. If passed, the amendment would have been placed on the November ballot for voter approval. Supporters said a smaller legislature would be cheaper and more efficient. Opponents said larger legislative districts would increase the cost of running for office and decrease contact between citizens and their representatives. The motion to kill the bill passed 16-14. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the bill.

Kill Money Transfer from Legislature to Schools: 4/12/94 vote to kill an amendment to the state budget, sponsored by Sen. Dana Hanley (R-Oxford), to transfer $1.5 million from the legislature's operating budget to local school aid. Although a surplus is projected for legislative accounts, opponents said the money should not be transferred in the event a special session is called or other unforeseen expense is incurred. The motion passed 20-14. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill Hanley's amendment.

Guarantee Public Employee Pensions: 4/12/94 vote on LD 1822, sponsored by Sen. Bonnie Titcomb

(D-Cumberland), to place a constitutional amendment guaranteeing teacher and state employee pension benefits on the November ballot. Proponents said the change would prevent the legislature from raiding the pension fund to balance the state budget. Opponents said the legislature should retain the right to adjust pension benefits. Because a two-thirds vote is required to amend the constitution, the bill was defeated by one vote, 23-22. A "yes" vote is a vote for the bill.

60/40 School Aid Formula: 4/12/94 vote on LD 924, sponsored by the Education Committee, to alter the school funding formula. State aid to individual school districts changes every year due to a formula based on student enrollment and local property values. The bill tempered this year's changes by limiting school districts scheduled to receive more aid, to 60 percent of their anticipated gain, and limiting districts scheduled to lose aid to 40 percent of their anticipated loss. Opponents favored an alternative proposal to follow the formula, but cap the amount of state aid a district can lose at 2.3 percent of its operating budget. The Paper Company Subsidy: 4/23/94 vote on LD 1993, sponsored by Rep. James Coles (D-Harpswell) to give paper companies a rebate equal to three percent of the cost of new equipment required by federal environmental laws. The bill provides a maximum of $20 million in rebates over the next four years and allows companies to negotiate property tax breaks with local governments. Proponents said the bill was necessary to keep paper plants in Maine, but opponents characterized it as a tax giveaway. The bill passed

House

1994 Attendance: There were 138 roll call votes in the House in 1994. Listed is the percentage of roll call votes for which each representative was present. Representatives who paired their votes, or were excused for absences (a rare event), have been counted as present.

Kill Bill to Shrink Legislature: 4/6/94 vote to kill LD 1933, sponsored by Rep. Sumner Lipman (R-Augusta) to reduce the size of the Maine legislature. The bill, which if passed would have been placed on the November ballot for voter approval, would reduce the size of the House from 151 members to 99, and the Senate from 35 members to 33. Supporters said a smaller legislature would be cheaper and more efficient. Opponents said larger legislative districts would increase the cost of running for office and decrease contact between citizens and their representatives. The motion to kill the bill passed 97-45. A "yes" vote is

Increase Water Pollution and Hazardous Waste Bond: 4/6/94 vote on an amendment to LD 1890, sponsored by Rep. John Martin (D-Eagle Lake), to increase a water quality bond issue from $9 million to $15.3 million. The amendment added money for pollution control improvements in Rangeley and more than doubled the funds to clean up more than 30 hazardous substance sites Martin said had been identified by the Department of Environmental Protection. Opponents said the House should support the $9 million figure approved by the appropriations committee, and that voters might reject the higher figure. The amendment passed 77-65. (The $9 million figure will appear in the ballot due to Senate opposition to the

Congressional Term Limits: 4/6/94 vote on LD 1983, initiated by a citizen petition, to limit terms of Maine's representatives to Congress. Starting in 1995, a bill limits representatives to serving six years in an 11-year period and senators to 12 years in a 17-year period. Supporters said term limits are necessary to guarantee that congress stays in touch with the people. Opponents said voters should be able to elec whoever they choose and that term limits will prevent Maine's representatives from becoming influential in Congress. The bill was defeated 44-98, but will be on the November ballot. Calais Casino: 4/7/94 vote on LD 1998, sponsored by the Judiciary Committee, to allow the Passama-quoddy tribe to open a gambling casino in Calais. Supporters said a casino would spur economic development and was permitted under federal law governing Native Americans. Opponents said gambling should not be encouraged. The bill was defeated 50-96.

Guarantee Public Employee Pensions: 4/1/94 vote on LD 1822, sponsored by Sen. Bonnie Titcomb (D-Cumberland), to present to voters a constitutional amendment guaranteeing teacher and state employee pension benefits. Proponents said the change would prevent the legislature from raiding the pension fund to balance the state budget. Opponents said the legislature should retain the right to adjust pension benefits.

Kill Tax Bill for Health Care and Education: 4/11/94 vote on an amendment to the budget, sponsored by Rep. James Bowers (D-Washington), to increase the tax on hotel rooms from seven to 10 percent to raise $7.4 million to reinstate the Maine Health Program which provides health care for low-income workers) and increase aid to local schools. Opponents said the tax increase would hurt tourism. Afterwards, Bowers said his amendment was in part designed to make Rep. Rydell's amendment, scheduled for a vote

Shift Money to Health Care and Education: 4/11/94 vote on an amendment to the budget, sponsored by Rep. Charlene Rydell (D-Brunswick), to shift $5.1 million from job training programs and a state reserve fund to local school aid and the Maine Health Program. Supporters said the shift would produce $3.8 million in federal matching funds, reinstate the Maine Health Program (which provides health care for low-income workers) and help school districts scheduled to lose state aid. Opponents said the supplemental budget, a compromise forged by appropriations committee which included Governor McKernan's economic development plans, should not be altered. The amendment passed 85-50.

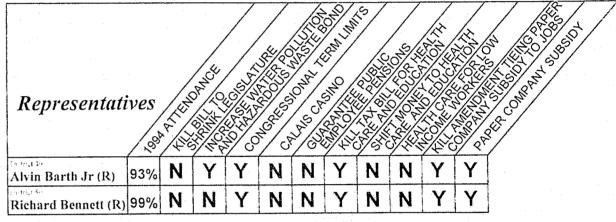

Health Care for Low-income Workers: 4/13/94 vote on LD 2012, sponsored by Sen. Dennis Dutremble (D-York) to spend $1,4 million to reinstate the Maine Health Program for one year. Proponents lauded the program, which provides health care to low-income workers, while opponents, led by Governor McKernan, said it was not a priority. The bill passed 104-24.

Kill Amendment Tieing Paper Company Subsidy to Jobs: 4/13/94 vote to kill an amendment, sponsored by Rep. Edward Pineau (D-Jay), to the paper industry subsidy bill (see next vote). The amendment would force a paper company to repay its subsidy for the previous two years if more than 50 percent of a company's workers were replaced in a strike, or laid off. Pineau said the amendment would guarantee that state money not given to companies which put large numbers of people out of work, but opponents said the amendment did not belong in the bill, and would unfairly penalize companies who had to lay off workers. The motion passed 85-48. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the amendment.

Paper Company Subsidy: 4/13/95 vote on LD 1993, sponsored by Rep. James Coles (D-Harpswell) to give paper companies a rebate equal to three percent of the cost of new equipment required by federal environmental laws. The bill provides a maximum of $20 million in rebates over the next four years, and also allows companies to negotiate property tax breaks with local governments. Proponents said the bill is necessary to keep paper plants in Maine, but opponents characterized it as a tax giveaway. The bill passed
